SESSION DESCRIPTIONS

NDOT Updates / Best Practices

Staff from NDOT will provide information and updates pertinent to all transit managers.

FTA Updates

Regional Administrator Mokhtee Ahmad and FTA Region VII staff will give updates on FTA regulations and funding opportunities. This interactive session will allow discussion on issues provided by workshop participants.

Recognizing Drug Impairment

In this session, a representative from the Nebraska State Patrol Troop C will speak about recognizing drug impairment. Learn the warning signs of drug impairment in both drivers and passengers, get tips on how to safely address the issue of drug impairment as a transit manager, and hear examples of possible scenarios and best practices from a Nebraska State Patrol officer.

How To Positively Impact the Lives of Others

You can increase your impact on others by becoming a “Person of Influence.” This session will cover simple, insightful ways to interact more positively with others, and watch your personal and organizational success grow. With influence, you can achieve success at home, at work, and in every other area of life.

Everyone Communicates Few Connect

To succeed, you must learn how to connect with people. Anyone can learn how to make every communication an opportunity for a powerful connection. In this session, we cover five principles and five practices that are key to develop the crucial skill of connecting. They include:

- Finding common ground
- Keeping your communication simple
- Capturing people’s interest
- Inspiring people
- Staying authentic in all your relationships

The ability to connect with others is a major factor in reaching your full potential. Connecting is a skill you can learn and apply in your personal, professional, and family relationships.

Dr. Jill Hough is the program director of the Small Urban and Rural Transit Center within the Upper Great Plains Transportation Institute at North Dakota State University. She has more than 20 years of experience in transportation research and has published more than 50 reports and journal articles in the areas of public transportation, low-volume roads, logistics, and economic development.

Dr. Hough earned her Ph.D. degree in the transportation technology and policy program at the University of California - Davis. She also has earned B.S. and M.S. degrees in agricultural economics at North Dakota State University. Dr. Hough is a certified John Maxwell speaker, trainer, and coach.

Promoting Your Transit Agency

From celebrating Public Transit Week to promoting your transit service to providing updates on the Nebraska Transit website – Advance is here for you! Advance staff will provide a recap of the 2018 Nebraska Public Transit Week. They will discuss brand awareness and why it is important, along with what marketing materials (print and digital) they can provide to help you promote your transit service. Customer service and digital updates will be discussed as well.

Keeping the Good Ones

One challenge remains consistent regardless of the economic conditions; how to best develop, engage and retain talent. The largest investment for any business is their employees. In this session, we will discover what an empowered workplace is and how to create a hard-to-leave environment.

Elizabeth Smith facilitates a variety of soft skill presentations, workshops and classes for Central Community College’s Training & Development Team.

Elizabeth is a certified Emergenetics® Associate and an Emergenetics® Selection Program (ESP) consultant. She also is a certified facilitator for Situational Leadership II® and Real Colors®.
